

U. S. CHEATED ON GAS SHIPMENTS

to several gulf ports, where it was shipped to the north and to Europe as gasoline.

Other indictments were those for embezzlement against Frank Pastry, Arthur Nash, Preston Walker, John D. Cross, Kathryn Rheaton, D. W. Study and Samuel Hutchinson.

Hutchinson is the express messenger who is said to have stole about $2,500 from the American Express company here last August. He was captured in Oklahoma City last month. Arthur Nash was the messenger clerk who took several hundred dollars from the Western Union Telegraph company. George Baby and Paul Jany were indicted for alleged burglary, while Clyde and Lee Parsons and Harvey Hightower are charged with robbing a postoffice.

WHAT IS GASOLINE? DEFENDANT INQUIRIES

The defendants contend that the question is one of fact, in other words, "what is gasoline?" They say the shipment did not become gasoline until it was returned to the refinery and further treated and that they had a right to bill it as crude naphtha at the rate fixed for crude naphtha by the interstate commerce commission. They contend further that it is only a matter of their traffic man securing the lowest possible rate and that in fact regulation of the interstate commerce commission has been violated. They further declare that the investigation by the grand jury was only for the purpose of securing testimony to be used by the government in the defense of an indictment suit brought by the Gulf Refining company in the United States court for the eastern district of Texas, to test the very question involved in the indictment, which suit is soon to be tried in the Texas court.

It is understood that the Katy and Rock Island railroads are interested in the case to this extent. They refused to accept the shipment's except under gasoline rate, and if the government fails in its contention they may be called upon to refund more than $1,000,000, representing the difference between the crude naphtha rate and the gasoline rate.

This is the first case of the kind in this district. Government agents have been working for several months, checking up every shipment by the Gulf Refining company from Oklahoma. The case was prepared for the grand jury by Edward E. Gann, special assistant to the attorney general, and J. Stanley Payne, attorney for the interstate commission. C. W. Miller, acting United States attorney, presented the case to the jury.
